

SECOND DEGREE MURDER

Was Verdict of Jury
in the Walter Diehl
Lynching
Case

SENTENCED FOR LIFE

Prisoner Betrayed No Emotion
When Judge Mansfield
Spoke Fatal Words.

Walter Diehl, convicted of second degree murder Wednesday afternoon, was sentenced by Judge Mansfield on Thursday morning to life imprisonment in the Ohio penitentiary, and was taken to that institution by Sheriff Slabaugh as soon as the necessary papers were made out, leaving Newark at 12:55 this afternoon.

Judge Mansfield showed considerable emotion as he pronounced the sentence, which was received by the defendant in the same stolid manner which has characterized him throughout the trial.

Before sentence was passed, the court heard and overruled the following motion, filed by Diehl's attorneys, S. L. James and L. C. Russell.

Motion For New Trial.

And now comes the defendant, Walter Diehl and moves the court to set aside and vacate the verdict of guilty in this case and grant him a new trial in this case and for cause, shows the following reasons, viz:

1st. Because the Court erred in refusing to allow counsel for defendant to inquire of certain jurors who sat in this case as to whether they entertained any bias or prejudice concerning the liquor local option contention in Licking County and whether such jurors signed the petition or took any part in the liquor local option election about two years ago, or whether such jurors were, or are, contributing to a fund for the prosecution of alleged offenders against the liquor laws in Licking county.

2nd. Because the Court erred in allowing the state, against the objections and exceptions of defendant, to introduce and offer in evidence to the jury, conversations and statements of Carl Etherington, made to the witness Joseph Moser, and in allowing said Moser to testify to what Carl Etherington told said Joseph Moser while in the county jail.

3rd. Because the court erred in charge to the jury.

4th. Because of other errors.

After deliberating two hours and fifty-five minutes, the jury in the Walter Diehl murder case returned a verdict of murder in the second degree at 4:40 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Soon after they retired the defendant was taken back to the jail and his family left the court room. Judge Mansfield remained in his private office, while Attorneys Smythe, Miller and McMillan spent the time in the prosecutor's office in the court house.

Attorneys James and Russell stayed about for an hour or more, and then went to their offices, leaving to be called by telephone, which was done immediately upon the announcement of an agreement.

The crowd thinned out, but a number remained in their seats through the time the jury was deliberating.

Sheriff Slabaugh brought Diehl into court at 4:47, and as he took his accustomed chair he was joined by his two brothers, his wife and mother, not being present when the jury filed into the room. Not one jury glanced in the direction of the defendant.

He sat with his usual calm features, as he had sat during the days of the trial. His lips were tightly closed, and occasionally he moistened them with his tongue, but betrayed no emotion as the verdict was read by Deputy Clerk J. W. Hursey, who received it from the hands of D. P. Bureh, who had been selected foreman.

Attorneys for the defendant immediately gave notice of the filing of a formal motion for a new trial.

Judge Mansfield came down from the bench and personally taking each juror by the hand, thanked him for the faithful, conscientious service during the trial. Deputy Clerk Hursey handed each his voucher for the per diem compensation due him and the members of the jury separated for the first time since the trial opened on Tuesday morning, Oct. 17.

Although it is an immaterial fact, and the jury, as most juries do, bound themselves to keep silent as to the proceedings in the jury room, there

SUMMONING NEW PANEL IN THE M'NAMARA CASE

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 26.—Attorney Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the defense in the trial of the McNamara brothers, charged with the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building and the murder of 21 persons, today continued the examination of E. T. Dossley, the last remaining taleman of the original panel.

A new panel is being summoned and in the meantime the court will proceed with "borrowed talemen" from the other departments of the superior court.

The defense dynamite expert, John

Birmingham, of San Francisco, today turned over to Darrow elaborate notations of his investigation of an accidental explosion late yesterday on the old Times site. It is admitted that a far smaller quantity of dynamite of much lower explosive power was used yesterday than in the bomb James B. McNamara is alleged to have set off under the Times. The fact that the small charge of dynamite yesterday shattered windows across the street while the original Times explosion broke none is expected to prove a strong point for the defense when the case finally comes to trial.

to settle in the water, which it did with the grace of a gull. The gear was changed to the propeller shaft and the machine was run ashore.

The speed of the machine varied from 50 to 70 miles an hour and averaged a speed of nearly 60 miles. Each of the aviators took turns at steering by means of the shift controller.

The aviators will return to their machine and fly with it today to Old Point. They expect to make the return trip to Annapolis Friday, starting in the morning.

Word of the flight was sent to Washington, where navy officials expressed their delight, according to advices received here. They agreed that for scouting purposes for a fleet defending the shores of the United States the hydro-aeroplans has proved its usefulness.

ELECTROCUTION OF CHAS. JUSTICE OCCURS TONIGHT

Columbus, Oct. 26.—Charles Justice, murderer of John Shoup, Xenia farmer in 1910, will meet death in the electric chair at the state penitentiary after midnight tonight. Seven times the death penalty has been delayed by action of Governor Harmon, in granting reprieves to the man. But since Justice's attempt to escape from the annex last Monday, the first attempt of the kind ever made at the prison it is believed that no further stay of execution will be allowed. Justice is one of the most remarkable prisoners ever held at the penitentiary, according to the officials there. Throughout his long imprisonment he has continued to express the utmost indifference to his impending fate. His entire career is full of crime and murder. He has served 33 prison terms and jails and in penitentiaries in the United States and Canada and he is said to have killed three men in the 32 years of his life.

WILL DISTRIBUTE FISH OVER STATE

Columbus, O., Oct. 26.—Hundreds of thousands of fish will be distributed by the state fish and game commission this fall in streams in every part of Ohio, assuring better sport to the thousands of followers of Isak Walton in years to come. "Conditions this fall are unusually favorable to fish," said State Fish and Game Commissioner Speaks yesterday. "The heavy rains have kept the streams high and the waters sufficiently rolled to prevent many being caught. The fish will go into the winter well and their numbers should increase next spring."

"In our trips with the fish distributing car we have met encouragement from hundreds of people. Our hatcheries at London and Chagrin Falls are producing an unusual number of young fish, which will be put out this fall. Many of them will be big enough for use next year."

Mature fish, black and rock bass, are being brought from Lake Erie, and bass, blue gills, catfish and carp are being taken from the state hatcheries.

Fish law enforcement is being aided by good citizens all over the state according to General Speaks.

SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT MADE IN HYDRO-AEROPLANE

Fortress Monroe, Va., Oct. 26.—After a flight in a hydro-aeroplane 120 miles down the coast from Annapolis, Md. Lieutenant Gordon Elyson and John G. Towers, T. S. N., landed late yesterday on the broad beach of Buckeye Beach, Va., three miles from here. The officers were suffering from the bitter cold when they landed, and hurried to shelter.

Lieutenant Elyson, who is in charge of the naval aeroplane school at Annapolis, and Lieutenant Towers, made their descent after the most remarkable and successful flight in the history of naval aviation, having flown from Annapolis, a distance of 125 miles in the remarkable time of 2 hours and 27 minutes.

The flight was made without stop or mishap, and the hydro-aeroplane lies on the sand in as good condition as when the start was made. The flight was the second attempt in as many weeks, the plucky aviators being forced to return to Annapolis on their former attempt owing to engine troubles after covering half the distance.

When they sighted Old Point the aviators began to look about for a place to alight. The engine was stopped and the big hydro-aeroplane was allowed

INJURED IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT AT COLUMBUS

Mrs. J. R. Lake of Johnstown was slightly injured in an automobile accident in North Columbus Wednesday morning and was taken to a hospital, but later released because her injuries were of a slight nature.

Her companion, Mrs. Sarah White, sustained a fractured hip bone and is a patient in the Protestant hospital where she will be compelled to remain for several weeks.

The two women were with a party of five automobiling in Columbus and when the driver attempted to avoid a wagon on a road in the northern outskirts of the city, the machine was ditched and the occupants of the car thrown out.

No one but Mrs. White was seriously injured.

TELEPHONE GIRL

Recognized Voice of Man Wanted for Assault and held him Until Officers Arrived.

Sidney, O., Oct. 26.—C. W. Jacobs, of near Wapakoneta, was arrested here late yesterday afternoon on a charge of attack. The arrest was made through the neat work of toll operators in the Sidney telephone exchange and the Wapakoneta exchange.

The alleged attack for which Jacobs was arrested took place at the Jacobs home yesterday morning. When the wife was away from home the father, it is charged, attempted to attack his 18-year-old daughter. She bitterly fought him and in the struggle her clothes were torn and her body badly bruised. She is reported in a serious condition.

The girl managed to get out of his clutches and called for help. The father fled and came to Sidney. While here Jacobs called at the Sidney telephone office to call up his wife.

The telephone operator at Wapakoneta recognized his voice, and knowing he was sought, held him up in getting telephone connections. She telephoned to Sheriff Lear of Wapakoneta, who immediately called up Chief of Police O'Leary of this city, and asked him to arrest Jacobs.

Sheriff Lear returned to Wapakoneta with Jacobs last night.

DAUGHTERS

Of American Revolution in Session at Sandusky in Thirtieth Annual Conference.

Sandusky, Ohio, Oct. 26.—That he women of today should "get back to the home and back to the kitchen" was the sentiment expressed in the report of the Committee on Administration that was applauded long and loudly by Ohio Daughters of the American Revolution, holding their thirtieth annual conference here.

The report was read by Mrs. Edward Orton, Jr., of Columbus, and was unanimously adopted. Governor Harmon and the State assembly were commended for the efforts they have put forth in behalf of a woman's reformatory.

In the absence of the State Regent, Mrs. Theodore Annett Phelps Lincoln of London, seriously ill of pneumonia, at Ravenna, according to a message, Mrs. Thomas Kite of Delhi, State Regent, is presiding over the conference. Addresses were delivered yesterday by Mrs. Edward T. Harris of Cleveland, Mrs. Franklin Franks of Findlay, and Prof. Edward Erie Sparks, of Pennsylvania State College.

MURDER MYSTERY DEEPENS

Police Investigating Private Relations of Dr. Helene Knabe

FERRATIC TEMPERAMENT

Of Indianapolis Woman Physician May be Responsible for Her Death.

Indianapolis, Oct. 26.—Around the unraveling of the private relations of Dr. Helene Knabe, 35, the police today centered their effort to solve the baffling death mystery that is locked in the breast of the dead woman physician.

With the lapse of 48 hours since the discovery of the almost nude body of the woman the authorities are today no nearer solution of the crime than when the discovery was made. That Dr. Knabe had offended many persons in recent years owing to her erratic temperament and blunt directness is information that the police secured today. The names of many persons, some of whom are said to stand high in professional and social life of the city have been given to the police and their whereabouts on the night of the murder is now being investigated.

The skill with which the throat of the physician was cut and the completeness of the precautions taken by the murderer to avoid detection, lead the police to believe that the murder was committed by a person of education, possibly one of the medical profession.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26.—"If Dr. Knabe was murdered, as appears, I am satisfied she was murdered by a person with whom she was acquainted, and that she voluntarily let this person into her apartment. But the theory of suicide still will not let itself be neglected."

With this statement, Capt. Wm. Holtz, chief of the detective department, last night summed up the result of the day's activities of the police in the investigation of the circumstances of the death of Dr. Helene Knabe, former state bacteriologist, whose throat was cut while she lay on her bed at an undetermined hour last Monday night.

"I cannot see anything but murder in this case," said Dr. C. O. Durham, coroner of the county. "The instrument of death was not found and circumstances indicating suicide appear to me negligible."

Captain Holtz declared that he did not intend to reflect upon the character of Dr. Knabe in saying that he believed she knew her murderer, if she was murdered.

"Dr. Knabe's reputation was unblemished," said he, "and she lectured to young women and men on the necessity of social purity as well as on physical culture and hygiene. But there is a number of possible motives for her murder. It is certain that robbery was not one of them, and physicians have decided that personal assault was not committed."

"The heavy street dust that had settled upon the outer sills of the windows of Dr. Knabe's flat was undisturbed when our men examined them. The electric lights in the bedroom were burning when Dr. Knabe's body was discovered. These are but a few of the indications that lead me to believe that she knew the person that killed her, if, indeed, she did not commit suicide. But we are working on the murder theory."

Some of Dr. Knabe's own friends today suggested to the police the idea that she ended her own life should not be cast aside, though the knife with which she was killed had disappeared. They said she recently had been dependent over her debts, that even her furniture and instruments were the property of her cousin, Miss Augusta Knabe. Along this line, Miss Knabe and Katherine McPherson, Dr. Knabe's assistant, who found her dead, were questioned at length. Both insistently denied that they had seen a knife in the bedroom or that they had covered up any evidence tending to show that the physician had killed herself.

Miss McPherson said she had pulled Dr. Knabe's night dress down over her body. Miss Knabe said she had laid a pillow across the body. Then, both said, they were so anxious to get physicians into the flat that they forgot to call the police until more than an hour after the discovery of the body. Miss Knabe admitted that Dr. Knabe owed her several hundred dollars and had other debts.

"But, poor girl, she would have

PHILADELPHIA WINS WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

Teams
PHILADELPHIA 0 0 1 4 0 1 7 0 *—13 13 5
NEW YORK 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—2 4 2

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—The Philadelphia American League Ball club is now the world's champions.

By winning the sixth game of the series from the New York Giants, the championship pennant will be awarded to Mack's Athletics.

Today's game developed into an utter rout in the 7th inning when six consecutive hits with an error and a pass scored seven runs.

The Athletics today beat New York's three best pitchers, Ames, Witte and Marquard.

Bender went the whole route for the Phillies and let the Giants down with four lone hits. The Giants never had a look-in after the first inning. Game in detail:

First Inning:

New York: Devore rolled a grounder to Bender and was out at first. Doyle drove the ball over the temporary fence in right field for two bases. Snodgrass lifted a high one which Lord took care of. It was two out with Doyle on second and Murray at the bat. Doyle scored on Murray's muff of Murray's fly. Murray was caught off first a moment later by a beautiful throw, Bender to Davis. One run, one hit, one error.

Athletics: Lord was an easy out, Doyle to Merkle. The first three balls Ames pitched were wide ones and the next four were straight over the plate, one of which Lord fouled. Oldring, who had made a home run off Marquard yesterday, struck out. Collins also struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning.
New York: Merkle lifted a high one which Oldring captured after a long run. Barry muffed Herzog's line drive and the runner was safe. Herzog stole second. Barry was slightly upkicked by the runner. It was purely accidental. The game was delayed a few minutes while the doctor bandaged Barry's right ankle. Fletcher struck out. Myers drove a hard grounder over second base, but Collins made a beautiful pickup and got the runner at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Athletics: Baker lifted a high fly to Devore and was an easy out. Murphy hit one too hot for Doyle to handle and was safe at first. It was a base hit. Davis rolled an easy grounder to Ames and retired at first. Murphy safe on second. Barry struck out on three pitched balls, fouling one of them. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning:

New York: The last ball Barry struck at could not have been hit by a cricketer. Ames singled to left. Devore forced Ames at second, Bender to Barry. Doyle filed to Baker. Devore was an easy out stealing Thomas to Collins. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Athletics: Thomas was given his base on balls. Bender was out, Fletcher to Merkle; Thomas taking second. Lord doubled over the temporary fence in right field, scoring Thomas. Myers and Ames held a conference when Oldring came to the plate. Lord went to third on Oldring's hit. Fletcher to Merkle. Collins lifted a fly to Devore. One run, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning:

New York: Snodgrass lifted the ball and they had not been killed.

Two cigars were found yesterday in the apartment, where Dr. Knabe lived alone. Miss McPherson told detectives that she distinctly remembered Dr. Knabe had brought the cigars home from a banquet of a medical society as a joke.

There is this to be said for the suicide theory," said Captain Holtz, after examination of Miss Knabe and Miss McPherson. "Dr. Knabe was a trained gymnast and she could have put up a powerful resistance to an assailant. There were no signs of a struggle on the bed or in the bedroom. Blood was not spattered about. The body was not distorted. As for the wound, one as familiar with the anatomy as she was, and with a sharp knife, could have cut her throat with a strong right hand slash such as killed Dr. Knabe."

"This does not account for the wife being missing, but there have been many cases in which the friends of a suicide have sought by removing evidence to prevent the fact of a suicide appearing. And many of Dr. Knabe's friends were in the flat before the police arrived."

"We shall continue to question Dr. Knabe's friends and acquaintances, in the hope of finding a lead. So far we have not discovered a motive for murder and there is only a slight one upon which to base the suicide theory."

Jefferson Haynes, negro janitor of the building in which Dr. Knabe lived, was further questioned by the police today.

RICHESON VISITED BY HIS FATHER

Dramatic Scene in the Charles Street Jail Where Meeting Occurred

BELIEVES SON INNOCENT

Exhumation of Body of Miss Linnell Precipitates Clash Between Attorneys.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 26.—Colonel Thomas Varland Richeson, of Amherst, Va., visited in Charles Street jail yesterday his youngest son, who is accused of the murder of Avis Linnell, his one-time fiancée. Since the young man left his Virginia home seven years ago to enter the Baptist ministry, his father had not seen him until yesterday and the meeting was dramatic. In the first words of greeting, even before he had clasped hands with his father, through the bars of his cell door, the clergyman exclaimed "Father, I am innocent."

The veteran Confederate soldier, who has all along expressed belief in his son's innocence, was visibly affected. He grasped the bars for support, while he answered only:

"My boy, my boy!"

For more than an hour, father and son conversed, and Colonel Richeson then left the jail as he came, in a closed carriage, and was driven, it is believed to the home in Brookline of Moses Grant Edmonds, father of Miss Violet Edmonds, to whom the clergyman was to be married. It was reported that a family reunion was to be held at the Edmonds home at which would be present also Miss Lillie V. Richeson, of Saranac Lake, N. Y., a sister, and Douglas Richeson, of Chicago, a brother. All are here to aid in the clergyman's fight for an acquittal.

The exhumation of the body of Miss Linnell precipitated the first court clash between attorneys for the prosecution and the defense. It was the government which secured, for Judge Murray in Municipal Court, against the petition of Attorney Dunbar that the defense be present at a second autopsy.

The body was subjected to an examination by Medical Examiner Timothy Leary early this yesterday, following which District Attorney Felleier issued a statement that no poison receptacle was found buried with the body. He also suggested the possibility that another poison as well as cyanide of potassium may have been used.

At the conclusion of the medical examiner's investigation the coffin was forwarded to Hyannis and reburied.

The Suffolk County Grand Jury will consider the government's evidence at a special session today.

Summonses have been issued for all members of the Linnell family, William A. Linnell, the Newton drugist, who told the police that Mr. Richeson had purchased cyanide of potassium from him, and Frank H. Carpenter, in whose home Mr. Richeson's apartments were located.

CHINESE REBELS CAPTURE CANTON

Shanghai, Oct. 26.—The revolutionists are reported to have seized Canton after a fierce struggle in which hundreds were killed. Confirmation is lacking but the report is generally believed as word of the fall of the city has been expected for several days. The emperor is preparing for flight. Two reports as to his destination are in circulation, one that he will place himself under Japanese protection and the other that he will go to the United States.

WILL FIGHT THE TWO CENT LAW

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Railroads connected with the Central Passenger Association are planning to attack the 2-cent fare laws in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The decision of Federal Judge Sanborn in the Minnesota rate case, it is understood, will be made the basis of the attack.

Judge Sanborn held that the two-cent fare law in Minnesota was unconstitutional, because it interfered with interstate rates. He ruled that reductions within the state reduced interstate rates.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY QUERIES

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN.

Mrs. M. D.: For short, thin hair there is nothing better to promote a healthy, vigorous growth than a good quinine tonic. But do not trust to any prepared tonic that may have been made so long as to have lost its strength. Get from any drug store an ounce of quinine and a half pint alcohol; mix together, then add a half pint cold water. Massage this tonic into your scalp about twice a week. It will cause dandruff and scalp irritation to disappear as if by magic, and you will soon notice your hair getting longer, thicker and beautifully lustrous. This splendid tonic is a positive remedy for falling hair.

Miss R.: You will find the following lotion a splendid skin-whitener and complexion beautifier. Dissolve four ounces of sulphur in a half pint hot water, then add two teaspoonfuls glycerine. This not only takes the place of a face powder, but you will find it far better in every respect. It does not rub off or show like powder, and benefits the skin. Apply this lotion to the face, rubbing gently until dry. It will take away that shiny, muddy, rough look and leave your skin smooth and fresh looking. This inexpensive lotion is now used largely by women of refinement and is unequalled for removing freckles, tan and skin pimples.

M. M.: No, do not use dry shampoo powder under any circumstances. Authorities on hair culture almost invariably condemn such mixtures, as they simply clog up the pores in the scalp and cause dandruff and other scalp troubles. When your hair needs shampooing, use for your shampoo a teaspoonful of cambric dissolved in a cup of hot water. This makes a rich lather that cleanses perfectly and will leave your hair brighter, cleaner and fluffier than ever before. This shampoo rinses easily, dries quickly and positively will not make the hair frizzy and brittle like soap does. If you will use this shampoo once, I am sure you will be pleased that you will never care to try any other.

W. E. S.: To make your eyes clear, bright, and show the sparkle of health, dissolve an ounce of crystals in a pint of water and put a few drops in each eye twice daily. This soothing tonic is very strengthening to weak, tired, inflamed eyes and will make your eyes clear and beautiful. For sore, granulated eyes, it is splendid and greatly helps those who wear glasses.

Mrs. J. J.: You need a good, strong, dry drug tonic and liver regulator, to purify your blood and build up your health. Take before each meal a tablespoonful of the following: Dissolve one ounce of sugar and one ounce of salt in a half pint alcohol, then add hot water to make a full quart. This home-made tonic will clear up your system, give you a good appetite, and as a liver regulator, it is simply splendid. It makes the best home medicine imaginable and does wonders in restoring lost appetite, energy and general good health.

Yeta S.: To clear your complexion and make it smooth, soft and satiny, use the following cream-jelly: Mix together one ounce of alcohol, two teaspoonfuls glycerine and a half pint cold water. Stir and let stand a few hours before using. This greaseless complexion-jelly is the finest thing you can get for removing those large pores that make your eyes and clearing up your complexion. It removes all pore-dirt, blackheads, freckles and skin pimples, and when used as a massage cream, fills out hollow cheeks and removes wrinkles readily.

Ella T.: Really, you have no just cause to worry on account of those superfluous hairs, because with a little delicate and water you can make a paste which applied to the offending hairs and left two or three minutes, then rubbed off, will remove every trace of hair. Get an ounce of delicate hair cream as I suggest, washing the skin after removing the delicate cream, and you will be delighted with results. Delicate costs a dollar an ounce, but is worth every cent as it is untailing.

Mae W.: I do not approve of dieting and exercising for fat reduction. The simplest and best way is to eat our ounces of porridge from any drug store and dissolve it in a pint and a half of hot water. Take a tablespoonful before each meal, and to your great satisfaction you will soon notice your fat disappearing. This harmless remedy will not leave your skin wrinkled and flabby, and has the endorsement of thousands who have tried it.

Quickest Surest Cough Remedy Ever Used
Stops Even Whooping Cough Quickly—A Family Supply for 50c. Money Refunded if It Fails.

If some one in your family has an obstinate, deep-seated cough—even whooping cough—which has yielded slowly to treatment, buy a 50-cent bottle of Pinex and watch that cough vanish. If it fails, money back promptly, and without argument.

A 50-cent bottle of Pinex, when mixed with home-made sugar syrup, makes a full pint—a family supply—of the most effective cough remedy that money can buy, at a saving of $2. Gives instant relief and will usually wipe out a bad cough in 24 hours or less. Easily prepared in 5 minutes—Directions in package.

Pinex Cough Syrup has a pleasant taste—children take it willingly. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative—both good features. Splendid for croup, hoarseness, throat tickle, incipient lung troubles and a prompt, successful remedy for whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of Norway White Pine extract and is rich in ginseng and other elements which are so healing to the membranes. Simply mix it with sugar syrup or strained honey, in a pint bottle, and it is ready for use. Used in more homes in the U. S. and Canada than any other cough remedy.

Pinex has often been imitated, but never successfully, for nothing else will produce the same results. The genuine is guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. Certificate of guarantee is wrapped in each package. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to the Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WINSTON CHURCHILL TO REDUCE COST OF BRITISH NAVY
London, Eng., Oct. 26.—Winston Churchill, who was recently transferred from the home office to be first lord of the admiralty, is expected to bring about a reduction in the naval expenditures, a step that will please the "advance" Liberals. In his old post Mr. Churchill drew $25,000 a year, while his new post pays but $22,500. Though the new post ranks lower than the other, Mr. Churchill will probably perform work fully as important as any in which he has been engaged.

Things break that way some times. We are not complaining or making excuses or boasting. The team is as good as ever and one more day ought to finish it.

The Giants beat them by going at them and hustling when luck gave them a chance. We need two more chances to show them that we always can do it.

New York, Oct. 26.—The run credited to Captain Larry Doyle in the tenth inning of yesterday's game, which gave the New York Giants second victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in the world's series was not legally scored, according to a statement made after the game by Empire William J. Klem of the National League, who was officiating behind the plate as the umpire-in-chief.

Doyle did not touch the plate, according to Klem, and if the Athletic club had made an appeal the umpire said he would have declared Doyle out and the inning would have ended in a tie score. As it was getting dark, the game could not have gone much further.

Umpire Klem's decision that Doyle did not touch the plate was corroborated by Francis Richter of Philadelphia, and J. Taylor Spink, of St. Louis, the official scorers appointed by the national baseball commission. Manager McGraw of the New Yorks admitted after the game according to Mr. Klem that Doyle missed the plate.

Despite the fact that the umpire-in-chief and the official scorers say Doyle did not touch the plate to make the run legal, no protests can be lodged with the commission as the result of the game, it is said, because the Philadelphia club made no appeal on the play.

Umpire Klem's statement was made to the Associated Press just after the game ended. There was a question in the scorer's box whether the ball caught by Right Fielder Murphy off Merkle's bat in the tenth inning was caught on fair or foul ground.

Klem said the ball was caught by Murphy in fair territory; that he made his decision that way and that he was corroborated by Umpire Brennan, who was on the right field foul line near Murphy.

"Doyle never touched the plate," Klem then volunteered, "but as the Athletic players made no appeal the game goes as a victory for New York."

In telling the Associated Press of the incident Klem said: "When Murphy caught the ball in right field I set myself to see the plate on Murphy's throw. Doyle came in like a streak and made a long, wide slide into the plate. He went across with one leg back of the plate and the other over it about eight inches or a foot. He never got nearer than that. I saw it plainly and waited. Usually I run to the dressing room when the game is over, but this time I stood at the plate for several seconds to see if the Athletic players would make an appeal. Lapp evidently did not see that Doyle missed the plate, as he was busy taking Murphy's throw, and probably took it for granted that Doyle touched the plate. None of the Athletics made the appeal and as I was about to move away McGraw, in passing from the third base coach's box to the player's bench, said to me: "Did you see it, Bill?" "I certainly did," I said. "What would you have done about it if they had appealed?" McGraw asked, and I replied, "If the claim had been made that Doyle did not touch the plate I would have given my decision as I saw it, but you see what a mess I would have gotten myself into."

"Well, I would have protected you," McGraw said as he walked away.

"I would have declared Doyle out if the appeal had been made, but none was made."

In his reference to a mess Klem meant that if he had entertained the appeal the New York players and their partisans would have made a tremendous protest against the decision.

When Thomas J. Lynch, president of the National League, was told of the incident last evening, he said so long as there was no appeal made the game will stand as a victory for New York.

In Case Giants Win today.
New York, Oct. 26.—The National Commission held a meeting early this evening and decided that in case the world's series goes seven games the seventh game shall be played on the Polo Grounds Friday. The unexpected victory of the Giants today, brought up the situation and the commission decided it at once by the loss of a coin. Secretary Bruce pitching the money.

Practical painters like Aurora

They recognize by the "feel," by the way it brushes out, the easy, even spread, that it is a superior paint.

To have that "feel," it must contain just the right amount of pure lead and linseed oil, reinforced by the proper scientific mixture of inert pigments. These inert pigments protect the linseed oil, and the longer your lin-

CITY DERIVES A SPLENDID REVENUE ON ACCOUNT OF PURCHASE OF OLD WATERWORKS

The wisdom of the city's purchase of the old water works plant is amply attested by the figures obtainable at the office of the director of service. Service Director Christian has just completed the compilation of the total revenue of the municipal water plant for the year, from October 1, 1910, to October 1, 1911, showing that the year's revenues exceeded expectations $5000 to $10,000.

The total revenue for the year was $36,057.55. At the time of the purchase of the old plant, the city officials figured that revenue of $25,000 to $30,000 would be satisfactory. The report of Mr. Christian shows that this estimate has been exceeded:

The receipts are divided as follows:

Flat rate, paid $10,662.24
Flat rate, unpaid 830.69

Total $11,492.93

Meter rate, paid $22,274.67
Meter rate, unpaid 659.94

Total $22,934.61

Sale of water, paid $ 665.52
Sale of water, unpaid 76.42

Total $ 741.94

Miscellaneous receipts, repair work, interest on deposits, etc. $ 888.07

Total of all revenue... $36,057.55

The report for the next fiscal year will show a greater total than the first year under municipal control. New service is being added every month and some eight or ten water consumers have been placed on the books who have not heretofore paid water rental, through some error.

According to the showing the plant has made at the close of the year ending October 1, there is no doubt that the revenues next year will reach at least $40,000.

The city now has fire protection from 433 hydrants. At $45 per year, the rental charged by the old company, this would add $21,755 to the revenue.

The total indebtedness is $530,000 and the interest on this debt amounts to $23,600 per year. The saving in fire hydrant rentals almost pays the interest on the indebtedness.

Counting the saving of the fire hydrant rental and adding to this the net revenue after deducting the operating expenses, the total revenue if the plant was operated by a private firm or corporation, would be $45,735.00. Counting the city's total investment at $550,000, this would show a net earning of 8 per cent, which is regarded as a highly satisfactory showing.

The operating expenses will be approximately $12,000 per year, or $1000 per month.

MR. A. L. RAWLINGS ADVISED OF COURT'S DECISION IN SUIT

Piano Factory of Which Mr. Rawlings is Director Will Continue to Make Knabe Pianos.

A. L. Rawlings has just received official notice of the federal court's action regarding suit brought to prevent the Knabe Brothers from using their name in connection with the manufacture of pianos in the Knabe Brothers Company (Cincinnati) of which company and piano factory Mr. Rawlings is a part owner and director. The letter follows:

Cincinnati, Oct. 25, 1911.

Dear Sir:—The musical papers, as well as certain other newspapers, have recently contained articles stating that a restraining order had been issued, enjoining the Knabe Bros. from using their name.

This statement is not true.

As a matter of fact the order of the court was only issued yesterday. We quote herewith from the injunction issued by the court:

"That the defendant be enjoined until further order of this court from placing words Knabe Bros. as they now appear upon fallboard of its piano, upon fallboard or other conspicuous part of any piano sold by defendant. But this order shall not prevent Ernest Knabe and William Knabe from doing business under their own names or under name of Knabe Bros. Co., or from stating that the piano of their or its manufacture is made by or under supervision of Ernest Knabe and William Knabe."

From the above you will note that the injunction of the court was based on the form in which the name Knabe was used on the fallboard, but that the court recognizes that the Messrs. Knabe cannot be enjoined from using their own names, or from using their name in corporate title, and from advertising or otherwise exploiting their pianos under their name.

Yours very truly,

WM. KNABE, Vice President.

SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN FADED AND GRAY HAIR

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, firesome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skilled chemists better than we could do it ourselves and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't neglect your hair. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and notice the difference after a few days' use.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.
Mineral Elements in Food.
The mineral constituents of food required for the formation of bone and some other tissues and in the chemical processes of digestion, elimination and nervous discharge are commonly overlooked. The absence of any of the elements of nutrition if long continued produces serious results, certain nervous disorders resulting from deficiency in phosphorus or iron,
others from deficiency in sodium, calcium, etc. All the mineral elements are supplied fully in milk, cereals, eggs and meat,
most of the fruits, raisins, figs
and prunes being especially rich in them. Potatoes, beans, cabbage and lettuce are good
sources of the mineral elements, but it is a mistake to think that all these or any considerable number of them or even two of them at once must be eaten to obtain a full supply of the mineral elements. They are well supplied in cereals and fruit or in nuts and fruit without any other food. When it is particularly desirable to supply mineral elements that may be deficient, in the blood lettuce or cabbage or raisins is a perfect
source of such supply.

Coatsville and Newark.
(Louisville, Ky., Courier Journal.)
Efforts to convict the educated American savages who burned a helpless negro to death in Coatsville, have been practically abandoned by the State of Pennsylvania, according to reports, because Coatsville's leading citizens condone the crime and object to a thorough investigation and a complete exposure of the facts
upon the ground that it might "hurt
the town."
Coatsville's prominent citizens must be very short sighted indeed if they believe that anything could be as good for the reputation of the town
as an honest investigation and an honest effort to convict the individuals who participated in the crime.
Coatsville must be singularly ignorant if they imagine that Coatsville is not now pretty widely known as the scene of one of the most atrocious crimes that have occurred in America
during the last ten years; and that it will remain well known as the scene

Utterly Wretched
Nervous Prostration Long Endured
Before Remedy Was Found.
Miss Minerva Reininger, Upper Merion, Pa., writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration and was utterly wretched. I lived on bread and butter because my stomach would not retain anything else. I took many remedies but obtained no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I began to gain at once. Am now cured." Pure, rich blood makes good, strong nerves, and this is why Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and enriches the blood, cures so many nervous diseases.
Get it today in usual liquid form or in coated tablets called Sarsatabs.

of an unpunished crime if no effort
is made to wipe out the disgrace.
Newark was an Ohio town no better known beyond the borders of the State than Coatsville was before the mob, composed of men and women,
aided by the acquiescence of the police, took a wounded negro from a hospital and burned him alive. The conviction of some of the members of the Newark mob attracted more attention than the murder itself, and constituted an excellent advertisement
of the intention of the State of Ohio
to promote law and order by prosecuting murderers. If Coatsville's prominent citizens succeed in having the investigation dropped the only result will be a wide advertisement of the existence of savages in Pennsylvania. United States history contains no account of a crime perpetrated by Indians that was a greater act of savagery than the burning at the stake which brought Coatsville into the limelight, and as long as no sincere effort to convict the murderers is made Coatsville will be much worse hurt by the indifference of its leading citizens than it would be by a legal hanging.

SETH W. HAIGHT
One of the most important offices in the city to be filled at the coming election is that of member of the School Board, and the parents of the school youth of the city are vitally interested in the matter. This is an age of progressiveness, and progress and advancement in the public schools of Newark is the watchword. For this reason it is absolutely necessary that a man qualified in every way to meet the requirements desired should be elected. The Democracy of Newark presents as its candidate for this important office a man well qualified for the position, a man that has been tried and not found wanting, in the person of Mr. Seth W. Haight. Mr.
Haight is one of Newark's most highly respected and progressive citizens.
He is a married man with a wife and two children, a son and daughter, and makes his home at 169 West Church street and has the confidence and respect of all his neighbors. He served on the School Board of Newark from 1900 to 1910, and was one of the best members of the board of education ever elected to the position, his faithful and devoted services to the schools of Newark being well known.
Mr. Haight is a well known train dispatcher for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company, having been with that company for a period of twenty-one years. He is also a member of Cedar Camp, Modern Woodmen, and also of the Foresters. He is thoroughly in sympathy with the progressive school movement and possesses in an eminent degree those qualities which go to make an efficient and intelligent school officer and render the people splendid service.

The way Jack Frost is being extorted for painting the landscape in many portions of the country is certainly establishing his reputation as an artist.

CONSTABLES
For the two constables the Democrats this fall present the names of Robert Forgraves and Fred Ross, and no better men for the position could be found than are they. Both men are well known and highly esteemed by all who know them, and each has had valuable experience in the office.
Mr. Forgraves having been attached to the court of Squire W. F. Horton and Mr. Ross to that of Squire G. W.
Horton.
It is almost an assured fact that both of these men will be elected, and that by a plurality that will be most pleasing to them and their friends.

DISQUIETING THOUGHTS.
The winter's at the door; full soon I'll hear him roar,
and where's the roll to get my coal and buy of grub a store?
Oh, where's the clanking cash to keep the kids in hash and shoddy clothes and furbelows and shoes and other trash? The money—where's it at,
to buy my frau a hat, and hay and chow to feed the cow and soup-bones for the cat? I spent too much, I ween, for wholesome gasoline. I blew my way to go abroad and see the king and queen, I journeyed here and there, threw money in the air; and now I'm broke, my hat's in sack, and I am in despair. I see a million clumps, like me, in doleful dumps, the while I gaze on bygone days and work the briny pumps. Like me they blew their bucks among the drakes and ducks, and have no roll to buy their coal—and life's all nips and tucks. When this dread winter flies you'll see me passing wise; in summer time I'll salt the dime for winter's beef and pie.

H. FRANK SHOWMAN.

Who is there in Newark township
that does not know big, genial Frank Showman? The response is not audible, while if the question was put without the negative, the choral response would be deafening. This office is one that Mr. Showman has filled with credit to himself for some time,
as well as giving his constituents an administration of the affairs of the office which entitles him to their suffrages for a merited re-election.
Frank Showman is a man who can be trusted in any capacity in which he is called upon to serve, and that of treasurer is one of importance, as it is this official who handles all of the township's money, scrutinizes and pays all vouchers, pays interest on bonds and has other duties which demand a thorough administration and scrupulous care in keeping the accounts of his office.
In all of these Frank Showman is one of the best treasurers that ever served the township.
In the opinion of that astute politician of New Hampshire, ex-Senator and ex-Secretary of the Navy William E. Chandler, the Republican party is in immediate danger, no matter whether Taft or LaFollette should be its next candidate for President.

There is no better equipped candidate for the office to which he aspires re-election, on either ticket, than is Arthur Bolwine, for township clerk.
This young man has been a resident of Newark all of his life and has been characterized by his energy and suavity of manner since his boyhood.
Those qualities he has carried into the discharge of his duties as clerk.

with the result that the office has never been more efficiently conducted than during his incumbency. It is certain that his second term will be as much a credit to him as the first, as he will undoubtedly succeed himself.
All records of the office are neatly and most scrupulously kept, and his system is one which makes simple the task of finding at any time any data
that is desired.
In Germany, at least, where the great majority of the people are suffering great privation because of the steadily increasing cost of living, the workmen are not unaware where the shoe pinches. They are beseech-ing the Government to throw down
the tariff walls by immediately suspending the import duties of food.

ARTHUR BOLWINE.

There has never been a stronger ticket presented to the electors of Newark township by any party than that nominated at the Democratic primaries this year. The list is headed by the three candidates for trustees, Steve L. Vermillion, E. D. Everts, and Mac Mossman. Each of these men, has qualifications that eminently fit
him for the discharge of the multitudinous duties of this office, which require careful attention to details, thorough honesty in administration
keen judgment and good common sense.
Mr. Everts is a well known cigar bunker and has lived in Newark all of his life. He is a man that it is a pleasure to meet, and who will give to the office that personal attention which it should have. He is a strong friend of union labor, has served in the Trades and Labor Council, and has always raised his voice and loaned his efforts to the cause of the workingman. He has also had experience on the Board of Trustees of the township which further qualifies him for the position.
Steve L. Vermillion is also a man who has served on this board, being at the present time a member, and has a ripe knowledge of every requirement which is expected of one who serves in this capacity. He has a wide acquaintance both in the city, as well as in the rural portions of the township, being known as a man of strict integrity, wide knowledge and proven ability. Mr. Vermillion should and undoubtedly will be, returned by a handsome vote.
Mac Mossman is known to every voter in the township, and no man knows the township better than he.
For years he has taught school in various portions of the township, and is a man of intelligence, who will bring with him to the office to which he aspires, a conscientious desire to serve to the best of his ability all the people of the township. At the present time he is the proprietor of the Travelers Hotel on South Second street in the city of Newark.
A vote for all three of these men will help insure a board of trustees that will give an administration of the township's affairs that will be a credit to themselves and a profit to the township.

THE SEA WOLF.
Among the most destructive inhabitants of the ocean is the sea wolf—a kind of dolphin, which attains when full grown a length of fourteen feet.
When a mother walrus sees a sea wolf
she endeavors to throw her cub on an iceberg, if one is near. Failing this,
she gets it on to her head and swims with it above water. But often this does not save it. Diving far below, the fish of prey comes up with tremendous force, striking the mother and jotting the cub off her head into the water.

CLEAR STATEMENT
OF HENRY C. KELLER
For clearness of statement as to his views on the proposed new constitution, it is doubtful whether any candidate for delegate in the entire state has excelled that made by Henry C. Keller, of this county, which was published in the Advocate
last week.
Two explicit provisions were made in the law creating the election of delegates to the convention. One of these provided for the election of the delegates on non-partisan ballots by petition and not by party nominations. The other provided for the separate submission of the question of license of the liquor traffic. This gives the people the right to vote on the proposition separately from the constitution itself. Agitated as the temperance question is at the present time, owing to the power invested in the Legislature,
there is a very large prevailing sentiment among thinking people that the electors of the entire state should be given the right to settle the question by a direct ballot. Thus submitted, the voter has the equal right to vote against license as he has to vote in favor of it.
The opponents of license not only have the right to vote No when they cast their ballots, but members of the convention opposing license can have the question of state-wide prohibition submitted separately, upon which the people can vote Yes or No.
In consequence of the present unsettled condition of this question and its agitation in Ohio, which is today more intense than in any state in the Union, a large majority of conservative people are desirous that some effort be made for its settlement by the constitutional convention.
On the initiative and referendum proposition Mr. Keller has devoted much earnest thought for a number of years, and he is enabled to intelligently discuss the subject on any occasion.
Being a farmer, Mr. Keller has been an earnest student of farmers'
interests in legislation, and he states that he will give this subject special attention in the convention
should he be elected as the delegate
from this great agricultural county.

THE FOUNTAIN HEAD OF LIFE
Is The Stomach
A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.
DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
• makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.
This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medicinal roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nourishments. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy of known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood.

EXPERT GAVE EXHIBITION
OF HIS SKILL
The attraction at the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. checker club last Friday evening was the games played by Guy Garwood and the local players.
Mr. Garwood spent Friday evening and Saturday with the checker players of Newark. He played the local players in all 29 games. His score was 14 wins, 7 losses, and 8 draws.
Mr. Garwood is an expert at the board and it speaks well for the local players to be able to get 7 wins against him.
Arrangements were made whereby
Dr. Turner should play Mr. Garwood
six games on two move restriction.
Both Dr. Turner and Mr. Garwood have been prominent in the minds of the checker-players of the State of Ohio for several years but they had never met across the board before.
Great interest was taken in these games. The score was three wins for Turner and three wins for Garwood,
and no draws.
The following is one of the games played by Garwood and Howard at the Y. M. C. A. last Friday night, Howard played the blacks and Garwood the whites.
The next meeting of the club will be at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night at 7:30. Visitors are welcome.

received many useful presents. A delicious luncheon was served and all departed wishing the hostess many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Mary Long and daughter Miss Florence Long of Buckingham street have returned from Columbus where they attended the fifth wedding anniversary of Mrs. Long's sister, Mrs. John McCarthy.

Miss Clara Copeland entertained on Tuesday evening with a Halloween party at her home and the residence was prettily arranged with autumn leaves, pumpkins and corn. The game of the evening was euchre, and the first prize went to Miss Essie Hand, while Miss Lillian Denelsbeck received the lone hand souvenir. A supper was served in the dining room and chrysanthemums formed the centerpiece. Yellow candles were used and hand-painted place cards seated the guests.

Those present were: Misses Lillian Denelsbeck, Nellie Frenier, Essie Hand, Ethel Brown, Mar. Ayers, Elizabeth Stewart, Irene Allison, Anna Hinger, Jennie Rossel and Olga Johnson and Anna Copeland.

SCOTT-PRESTON.

At 11:30 a. m. Wednesday, Mr. Lewis Hale Scott and Miss Verne P. Preston were united in wedlock by Rev. L. C. Sparks. The wedding took place at the home of Mr. Sparks and was witnessed by Mrs. Lizzie Scott, the mother of the groom. The bride is the beautiful daughter of Mr. B. P. Preston of this city and the groom is a young man of most excellent family, residing at Alexandria. In a short time they will be at home to their friends near Alexandria.

MARTIN-CLAGGETT.

At 3 p. m. Wednesday, Rev. L. C. Sparks solemnized the marriage of Alonzo M. Martin, a well known B. & O. fireman of this city, and Miss Zephia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Claggett, residing in Eastern avenue. The young people are deservedly popular and have the best wishes of many friends. They will live in Newark.

CLEAR THE HEAD
BREAKS A COLD
STOPS CATARRH

This Simple, Common-Sense Treatment Costs But a Trifle and Gives Quick Results.

Everybody knows that colds lead to catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Catarrhal Headache, Nasal Catarrh, Hay Fever, and kindred diseases.

When the system becomes filled with the catarrhal poison, you have a desperate demon to deal with.

The best time to cure Catarrh is before it becomes chronic, and the quickest way to get results is to apply the treatment direct to the seat of the trouble.

The nostrils and the air passages are the breeding places for the Catarrhal germ, and these germs thrive and increase when the parts are sore, swollen and inflamed by colds.

Nostrisols, the simple, harmless, common sense remedy, quickly opens the head, purifies and heals the mucous linings of the air passages, and this simple treatment is much more pleasant and satisfactory than stomach dosing to cure a cold.

The Nostrisols Treatment always affords quick, pleasant relief, and many people in this vicinity who have learned the value of Nostrisols are using nothing else for colds, croup, catarrh, etc.

You get a large tube of Nostrisols at drugists for 25c. Buy a tube today and you'll wish you had tried Nostrisols sooner.

The fellow who becomes famous over night always wakes up the next morning.

This is the Stove Polish
YOU
Should Use

It's different from others because more care is taken in the making and the materials used are of higher grade.

Black Silk
Stove Polish

Makes a brilliant, silky polish that does not rub off or crust off, and the shine lasts four times as long as ordinary stove polish.

Used on sample stoves and sold by hardware dealers.

All-wash material. Use it on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your gas range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money.

Insist on Black Silk Stove Polish.

Made in liquid or paste—one quality.

Sweet Potato Pudding—Peel and grate enough raw sweet potatoes to weigh a half pound. Cream together six ounces of butter and a half pound of sugar; add alternately eight well beaten eggs and one lemon, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of brandy and one gill of sherry. Beat hard, pour into a buttered dish and bake in a moderate oven for about three-quarters of an hour.

Fried Carrots—Scrape good sized carrots and boil in slightly salted water until tender. Cut in slices, either round or long, according to preference. Melt one tablespoonful of butter or dripping in a saucepan. When very hot spread in the carrots. Sprinkle them with salt, pepper and plenty of sugar and fry slowly until well browned, turning and browning on the other side. When in the hot dish sprinkle with chopped parsley.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

Leaks in the Business Girl's Purse.

IT was a little after the noon-hour, and through the doors of a popular restaurant filed a procession of bright business girls. One displayed a snowy frill over the coat of her trig tailored suit. At the wrist of another jangled a number of bracelets. The coiffure of a third was a wonderful combination of combs and ribbon. A fourth wore fancy pins and other trinkets galore. The hat of a fifth was submerged beneath a swirling willow plume. And so the exhibition of fads in dress went on, as the doors swung to and fro.

It's very well, as a rule, for a business girl to keep her appearance smart and up-to-date by means of some of the latest little accessories of dress. But unless she exercises good sense in this direction, she will find it a rock upon which she will be wrecked financially and sartorially.

Almost every girl loves the pretty things of dress, and the little new business girl when she first finds her own money jingling in her purse is apt to buy recklessly right and left. She can't resist the temptation to get this bit of neckwear, that gay ribbon, the latest in barrettes, the pretty pin that catches her eye on the jewelry counter. But if she yields to this temptation, what is the result? She has a hodge podge of dress accessories, which she never really wears out, and at the end of every week, she finds her purse empty.

This is more serious than she thinks. In the first place, she should save something every week from her salary; and in the second place, she should learn not to buy without judgment.

Every bright business girl should try to save something. Few girls are so altogether superficial as to live merely for the present. Most girls have some ambition. They want to get ahead in some way, even though the way is not as yet very clearly defined. And there is nothing quite so helpful as a bank account. Setting aside the necessity of having some money to fall back upon in case of sickness, accident, or loss of work, nothing makes a girl feel quite so independent as money in bank. If she has a few hundred dollars saved, it gives her a feeling of confidence that she can venture into this work, or that investment. It spurs her to think of things of this sort she would otherwise not consider, and thus she often sees opportunities, and goes on to a fuller and happier life than she otherwise would be able to.

But it is essential also that a girl should train herself to buy judiciously. As a light-hearted, care-free girl, she may not think it a serious matter if she does fritter her money away for fads and fancies. But some day perhaps, she will be a wife and housekeeper; and to make both ends meet may require careful handling of the family purse. If she is utterly unable to resist the temptation to buy whatever strikes her fancy, can't you see what will soon happen in that home?

A young girl was heard to say, "I just won't take much money down town with me, because I spend it all." It was the light-hearted remark of a happy girl. But she ought to rise above such an attitude of irresponsibility. If she ever has the spending of a husband's salary, what will become of it?

So the business girl should watch these little leaks in her purse and determinedly stop them. She should save for the sake of her future, not only her old age, but her near business future. And she should buy only such of the little accessories and fads of dress as will keep her smart looking, and as can be worn out before they go out. Then her bureau drawers will not be filled with half worn neckwear and veils and gloves, and she will really be more tastefully dressed.

Barbara Boyd.

Daddy's Bedtime Story How Patsie Brought Up Orphan Chick Cream Puff

FRANKIE GREEN's papa has bought a machine to make chickens out of eggs," said Jack. "I saw it today."

"Ab, an incubator!" observed Daddy. "I feel sorry for those little chickens. I don't believe any machine can take the place of an old biddy, so far as mothering goes."

"Poor little chicks!" sighed Evelyn, whose tender heart was touched at this thought.

"I hope none of Frankie's little chicks will be so unfortunate as the incubator chickens I heard of the other day. There were sixteen of them at first—the loveliest fluffy black and yellow puffballs. When they picked their way out of their shells and opened their bright eyes on the world their troubles began. First one little chick got hurt, then another caught cold, a third disappeared—maybe a rat got it—but something happened to every blessed one of fifteen until there was only one downy little yellow fellow left. It was a lonesome looking little chick."

"When the last of the fifteen chicks had passed away the children went out into the washhouse where the sixteenth was kept in a brooder or warm box. They took little Cream Puff, as they had named this chick, held him in their hands and petted him. Patsie, their spaniel, who was with them, sniffed at the chick. Then she whined till it was put on the floor beside her. The dog curled down on the floor and made the same soft endearing sounds she had used in calling her puppies around her. Cream Puff seemed to understand, for, with a peep, she cuddled down beside Patsie, her yellow feathers showing brightly against the dog's brown curly coat. Patsie's body kept her nice and warm."

"Patsie seemed to have made up her mind then and there to adopt little Cream Puff, for when the chick was put back into the box she fussed so that the children gave it to her again. Patsie after that spent most of her time in the washhouse with the chick."

"So Patsie was allowed to keep the chicken, and it was funny to see it hopping around after her, while she guarded it with the greatest care. Mary, the cook, would allow her to bring the chick in beside the kitchen fire and would laugh when Patsie growled at old Snookem, the cat, and chased him outdoors for trying to get too near to her feathered baby."

"Cream Puff grew to be a big chicken and became so clever that she was kept as a pet. Cream Puff learned to peck at the kitchen door whenever she wanted to come into the kitchen, where Mary, the cook, would give her tidbits to eat. Cream Puff learned to know the dinner bell, and she slept in a box instead of going to roost like other chickens."

ATHLETICS CLINCH WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP TODAY.

COPYRIGHT 1911 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Temporary fence in right field for a double, scoring Murphy. Marquard here relieved Witte. Thomas was the ninth man up in the inning. The Athletics having batted around with only one out. It was a great exhibition of consecutive hitting. Davis and Barry both scored on a wild pitch. So far in the inning there had been seven runs scored on six hits. The game had almost resolved itself into a burlesque. Thomas made his first hit of the series on a drive to right. He was so stunned that he lifted his cap when the crowd cheered. Bender then came up for the second time. Thomas was out stealing. Meyers to Fletcher. Bender finished the inning by striking out. Seven runs, seven hits, one error.

Eighth Inning.

New York: Devore was thrown out. Barry to Davis. Doyle was out. Davis to Bender on a weak grounder. Barry fumbled Snodgrass' grounder. Murray was retired on a stop and throw by Collins to Davis. No runs, no hits, one error.

Athletics: Wilson sent into catch for the Giants. Lord drove a double to left, his third hit of the game. Lord went to third on Oldring's fly to Snodgrass. Collins was out on an easy grounder. Doyle to Merkle on his last chance at bat in a world's championship game during 1911. Baker struck out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Inning.

New York: Merkle lifted a high one and was out, Barry taking the fly. Herzog singled to center and went to second on Oldring's error. Herzog took third on a wild pitch. Herzog scored on Fletcher's out at first. Collins to Davis. McInnis went to first instead of Davis. It was McInnis' first game in the world's series. Wilson out, Baker to McInnis. One run, one hit, 1 error.

FRESH EGGS

BY N. E. CHAPMAN.

Chairman Extension Division Minnesota College of Agriculture.

THE quality which is most desirable in milk and cream for immediate consumption is freshness. In eggs the corresponding quality is freshness. Most producers have come to realize that dairy products must be marketed daily, and under the most favorable circumstances to command the highest market price. The same practice should obtain in the marketing of eggs.

There is a closer parallel between the quality of sweetness in milk and freshness in eggs than is commonly supposed. It may be truthfully said that, under the same conditions, eggs will keep fresh no longer than milk will keep sweet.

A better taste than freshness would be newly-laidness. The term "fresh eggs" is commonly applied to "current receipts," which may be from one week to one month old. A new-laid egg must be under one week old, and must have been kept in a cool, dry place, under 50 degrees F., and free from odors of all kinds to retain its freshness. It properly cooled within this time the albumen, or white, is milky, flaky, and what is termed "clotty," and the yolk sound, firm and rich. Such eggs, from healthy hens, are wholesome food, and have a distinctive flavor and aroma very pleasing to the taste.

If exposed to heat, dampness and odors, the quality soon disappears and the egg becomes stale, insipid and unwholesome. Quick development and bacterial changes often render eggs unfit for human food within forty-eight hours, and such come under the ban of the pure food laws.

It is very important then that eggs should be marketed daily to preserve quality and wholesomeness. Not only so, but the annual loss through detrimental changes in market eggs would be saved. This loss is 17 per cent of the value in the hands of producers, and the price is tried to cover this loss.

It is conservatively estimated that Minnesota produced 100,000,000 dozens of eggs during 1910 on farms and village lots, and that 60,000,000 of these were put upon the market. How long they were kept in the country stores, how long they were in the possession of the commission men and retailers, who can tell?

Thousands of farmers market their milk and cream daily, and an appeal is made to them to market the eggs produced daily also. This is the most important factor in the state-wide poultry propaganda, the daily marketing of fresh eggs.

Let producers, merchants, shippers, railways, commission men and retailers handle fresh eggs, as they do sweet milk and cream. Keep them moving from nest to table. Then all may have the privilege of eating really fresh and wholesome eggs.

HANDLING ROCK PHOSPHATE

BY W. E. TOTTINGHAM AND C. HOFFMAN.

Wisconsin Experiment Station.

ROCK phosphate should not be allowed to ferment with manure in piles. Experiments show that under these conditions 40 to 50 per cent of the phosphoric acid, which is soluble in water and hence valuable to crops, may become insoluble. This is due to the requirements of phosphorus of rapidly multiplying bacteria in the manure heap. This does not mean that the phosphoric acid used by the bacteria will be eventually lost from the crop, but before this can occur the cells of the bacteria must be more or less decomposed. This is a process, requiring time, as does the formation of humus in the soil.

Rock phosphate itself is quite insoluble and to be of value to crops must be attacked by carbonic acid, which can best be formed in the soil by the rapid decay of organic matter. Hence rock phosphate gives its best results when applied to the soil with manure. Rock phosphate and manure mixtures can be applied to the soil through the winter months with economy, as the cold weather prevents fermentation. It should not be allowed to stand in piles of manure where fermentation may take place even in the coldest months.

Decomposition of manure in the soil is due principally to bacteria, and while the process furnishes carbonic acid which will assist in dissolving the phosphate, the bacteria also use a portion of this phosphoric acid and apparently for this reason plants give comparatively slow returns in practice. An application of floats generally shows greatest effects in the years following the one in which the fertilizer was applied. This indicates that the bacteria must decay and their phosphoric acid be taken up by growing crops before the floats become effective. Manure yields carbonic acid, which is the most effective agent in the soil for carrying phosphoric acid to crops. Hence it is important to provide a liberal supply of farm manure or other vegetable matter where rock phosphate is to be used. The two may be applied in mixtures, and when fermentation takes place in the warm months the process should be hastened by thorough tillage, which admits air to the fermenting material and increases the action of bacteria. Under these conditions a part of the phosphoric acid will be made soluble by carbonated water and will be used immediately if there is a crop on the land. Otherwise it is quite sure to be either lost by leaching from the soil or it will be made insoluble again.

The action of the bacteria in thus holding the phosphoric acid is of course, valuable, but it possesses no economy when taking place in a manure pile before the phosphate has even reached the soil. Fence farmers are advised to apply rock phosphate and manure to the land as soon as they are mixed; or separately and turn under at once. Where applied in winter the fertilizer should be turned under in early spring. In this way, where a crop is grown and thoroughly tilled, the rock phosphate is sure to give valuable returns.

MARKETING HONEY CROP

BY T. B. SYMONS,

Marvland Experiment Station.

JUDICIOUS marketing of the crop may often largely measure the profits of the beekeeper. The securing of a crop of honey is only partly indicative of the success to be attained. Many beekeepers, especially those who keep only a few colonies, are too often inclined to sell at too low a figure. The aggregate of the output, often of an inferior quality, of such indifferent beekeepers, frequently makes it impossible for others to profitably market a good article. It is the duty of the State and County Beekeepers' association to institute and maintain a vigorous campaign for the education of the beekeepers of the state in profitable methods of marketing.

Carefully grade all honey, so that each lot is of uniform quality; do not attempt to mix a few soiled sections with a No. 1 article on the assumption that the first-class article will aid the sale of a second or third grade. Carefully scrape the wood of sections free of propolis and bits of wax, and pack in the regulation shipping case. Grading rules for comb honey are published in all of the bee journals. The style and size of packages for extracted honey will depend on the demands of the market in which the beekeeper disposes of his product. A fancy article in a neatly labeled glass package will more than repay the extra cost in added sales and increased price obtained.

SELECTING EXHIBITS OF CORN

BY R. C. HOWELL,

Department of Agricultural Extension, Louisiana State University.

HUSK all ears that appear to be of the right proportion. The husking should be carefully done, as the missing kernels are counted off in scoring. Lay upon a table with butts pointing in one direction for a general comparison of ears. Place the ears in groups according to length, circumference and general appearance. Standards of length and circumference of each variety have been adopted by the Louisiana Corn Growers' association. But for all practical purposes these standards may be classed for large dent varieties, length 9 to 10 inches, circumference 7 1/2 to 7 3/4 inches; flint length 8 to 9 inches, circumference 6 1/2 to 7 inches, large type profile, length 8 to 9 inches, circumference 6 to 6 1/2 inches, and prolifics, length 7 to 8 inches, circumference 5 1/2 to 5 3/4 inches.

Select a single ear embodying the points of correct length and circumference, and which conforms to the type represented by the majority of the ears, smoothness of surface, cylindrical shape, coloration, straight rows, well-filled butt and tip, length of kernels, size and color of cob and compactness of ear considered. This ear should then be used as a model by which nine others may be selected as closely resembling it as possible, all points considered. No ears should be exhibited if weevil infested.

FORM OF EAR

IT HAS been learned, by many tests, that ears of a certain form yield more than other ears different from the standard form. Pairs of corn likely to give best results, carry the butt diameter well toward the tip; they are free from indentations or other irregularities that would tend to decrease the yield of the ear; they have straight, regular rows of uniform kernels, and have kernels extending well over the tip and butt.

POINTS OF A GOOD FEED EAR

BY O. M. OLSON,

Extension Division Minnesota Agricultural College.

IT COSTS just as much to grow an ear of corn that has kernels covering three-fourths of the cob as it does to grow one with kernels covering the whole cob. The kernel contains most of the feeding value. The cob is of very little value as food, hence the rows of kernels should round well down over the butt and extend well over the tip (not necessarily clear over), thus insuring a good proportion of corn to cob. The rows should run straight from the butt to the tip; because, in crooked rows there are more irregular kernels, and kernels of irregular size make it impossible to plant a uniform number in each hill.

In selecting seed corn one should always have in mind securing a maximum yield. One cannot hope to secure a maximum yield of shelled corn if the furrows between the rows of kernels are wide and deep. On the other hand, if there is scarcely any furrow, and the crowns of the kernels touch, it will be found that the ears are hard to dry. To be right, the furrows should be merely distinguishing grooves between the rows of kernels.

To get the most feeding value out of an ear of corn there should be no space between the kernels at the cob. It is the tip of the kernel—the end that contains the germ—that is richest in food nutriment. Pointed, chaffy tips indicate low feeding value and poor germinating power. Every precaution should be exercised to select seed corn that will grow a good crop of strong, vigorous plants. Space between the kernels at the cob, and lack of furrow, usually indicate a low proportion of corn to the cob, immaturity and poor vitality. The tip of the kernel should be wide, allowing room for a long, broad and deep germ.

Nothing will aid more in making a high yield of shelled corn than a deep, well-formed kernel. But do not select a too deep kernel, because the deeper the kernel the greater is the length of time required to mature it; and, above all other things, maturity is the first consideration. A good dent kernel will be somewhat wedge shaped, about half again as broad at the top as at the bottom. Flint corn has a more rounded shape, being often as broad or broader than deep. A corn planter can plant a uniform number of kernels in each hill.

DON'T CUT SILAGE TOO EARLY

BY E. F. RINEHART,

College of Agriculture, University of Ohio.

FILLING the silo is an operation that requires great care. As silage is a green feed preserved in its natural state—or nearly so—in order for it to keep well it must be put away properly. Before filling, the silo should be gone over carefully, to make sure that it is air-tight. Whenever the air has access, we may expect to find a certain amount of spoiled silage.

Corn for the silo should not be cut until it is somewhat ripe. The ears should be dented or glazed and the leaves and husks begin to turn brown. In other words, it should be at such a stage of ripeness that if it stand a few days it would do to put into the shock. If cut too green, not only will the yield per acre be much less, but a poorer quality of silage will result, as it will be more acid. If allowed to get too ripe it will not pack well and the danger from mold will be much greater. If, for any reason, the corn is allowed to become too ripe as to be somewhat dry, water should be added as the silo is filled.

Whatever type of cutter is used, the corn should be cut very fine. The length of the pieces should never exceed one-half or three-fourths of an inch. Then the silage will not only pack better, but the cattle will eat it more completely, consequently, there is less waste. The most convenient way of cutting is with the binder. If the corn is somewhat green, it may be allowed to wilt, but not to become dry. If desired, the twine may be removed at the cutter, although the usual practice is to run it through the machine with the corn.

As silage enters the silo it should be evenly distributed. If a large heap is allowed to accumulate from the end of the carrier or bower, the pieces of corn will roll down the sides, consequently the grain will not be evenly distributed and some feeds will be much richer than others. This objection may be overcome by keeping the silage scattered as it enters the silo. For this purpose a distributor or conveyor will be found very convenient.

Care should be taken that the entire surface is well packed. Friction along the walls prevents the silage from settling, thus leaving air spaces, unless it is carefully tramped.

only when the kernels planted are uniform in size. To secure uniform planting, the kernels of selected seed corn must be all of nearly the same size, not only on one ear, but throughout the whole selection.

Ears with large cobs are to be avoided on account of being hard to dry. A great variation exists in the amount of corn to cob different ears will shell. The variation usually comes between 70 and 90 per cent corn and 10 to 30 per cent cob. From this it is seen that if one feeds one lot of hogs a bushel of corn that is but 70 per cent shelled corn, one lot will get forty-nine pounds of shelled corn and the other lot sixty-three pounds. For Minnesota conditions dent ears should yield about 85 to 95 per cent of shelled corn. Indications of per cent of corn to cob are size of cob, depth of kernel, furrow space and space between the kernels at the b.

A few ears of yellow corn in a field planted to hite corn means there is a mixture and that seed from that field will not be pure. Pure-bred corn, like pure-bred cattle, always sells better; not necessarily on account of superiority of the individual but because it will be likely to transmit its character to its offspring, while scrubs or mixed varieties may not. Intelligent crossing of either plants or animals often brings good results, but it is seldom that an unskilled cross brings increased production. Field mixtures of corn (crosses) are usually associated with decreased yields, and anything but uniformity.

Each kernel of corn has in it, near the tip, a little corn. When the kernel is placed in favorable conditions—that is, put in warm, moist soil—this germ will grow and produce a corn plant. The germ should be nearly white in color and should cut off as clean with a sharp knife. If the germ is soft and cheesy it indicates that the seed has not been properly stored, and if dark that it has been frozen. A germ containing a high percentage of moisture after Oct. 2 indicates a high percentage of moisture, and the seed will very likely be malurid, and the seed will very likely be injured by cold weather. A desirable germ should be large on the surface, clear in color and show indications of strength. Such germs are seldom found in kernels with pointed, chaffy tips.

YIELD OF CORN PER ACRE

BY A. D. WILSON,

Extension Division, Minnesota.

AN ACRE of corn planted in check rows, hills three feet and six inches apart, has 3,556 hills; and with three stalks to the hill, contains 10,668 stalks. If one stalk in each hill produce a ten-ounce ear, the yield per acre will be 31.7 bushels. The average yield of corn per acre in Minnesota for 1909 was 34.3 bushels. The average yield for ten years in Minnesota has been but 29.4 bushels. From this it is easily seen that on the average two stalks out of each hill do not produce ears at all or are missing. What is immensely more important than large ears is a field of corn in which every stalk produces a good ear or ten ounce ear. Three eight-ounce ears per hill will practically equal the present average yield. If care is used in selecting only choice seed ears, long strides will be made in increasing corn yields.

It may be well to emphasize the fact again that many are inclined to select ears that are too large. This is a very natural thing to do, because everyone likes large ears. It is of corn better than small ones; but it is yield of corn rather than large ears that determine profit. And if one allows himself to select ears so large that they will not mature, he is the loser thereby. For the southern part of Minnesota dent corn ears should not be longer than eight and one-half inches, nor larger in circumference than six to seven and one-half inches when dry. Toward the northern part of the state the size of the ear will decrease until it is about seven inches in length and five and one-half inches in circumference when dry. Three good ears per hill of the sizes mentioned will give a yield surprising to most growers of corn.

MATURITY IN CORN

BY ANDREW ROSS.

FEDERS have long recognized that it is difficult to feed immature corn and keep stock from getting "off feed." Immature corn is not as high in feeding value as mature corn. It is surely much harder to store and keep. A field of mature corn will yield more pounds of solid corn per acre than a field of immature corn.

In poor corn years corn is worth more per bushel than it is in good corn years; so one is especially interested to have corn in unfavorable years. It is more encouraging and more satisfactory to get forty bushels per acre every year than to get fifty bushels per acre four years out of five, and the fifth year get nothing, because the crop failed to mature. In either case, one would get the same number of bushels of corn in five years, but with the sure-crop variety he would have corn for his stock every year, and would have it on the poor years when it is high in price. Furthermore, immature corn is low in vitality, and often will not grow at all.

A common practice is to select ears that are too large. It is much better to grow three medium-sized mature ears to the hill than it is to grow three larger immature ears per hill. As a general rule, the larger the cob and the deeper the kernel, the longer it will take for the ear to mature. The size of the cob and kernel will naturally have to be decreased from the southern to the northern part of the state. Indications of immaturity are looseness of kernels on the cob, a high percentage of moisture, softness (or thin, small, poorly developed kernels), adherence of the tip cup to the cob, and generally a large amount of white starch.

FRUIT FOR EXHIBIT

BY C. C. VINCENT,

Assistant Horticulturist, University Experiment Station, Idaho.

TO PRESERVE fruit for exhibition, in order that it may appear in its natural condition, is a process little understood by the majority of people. However, if one has the time and inclination to take the proper precautions very little difficulty will be experienced in preparing the fruit. Success lies in the proper selection of specimens for preservation. As much, if not more, depends upon the selection and proper handling of the fruit than upon the formula used. Never allow specimens to become fully mature, and to meet with the best success they should be placed in the preserving fluid fully two days before thoroughly ripened. The fruits selected should be in the best possible condition and without blemish of any kind.

After washing in clear, cold water, to remove all dust, dirt, spores or other foreign matter, place carefully in the preserving jar. Avoid handling the specimens any more than is really necessary. After filling the jar as full as possible without bruising the fruit, the liquid should be poured in. Some writers recommend straining the liquid through several layers of uncolored cheese cloth. This is a good plan. Make the lid airtight and place in a dark room, at a temperature of 30 to 40 degrees F. The jars should be examined every few days and if found fermenting, the liquid should be removed, the fruit rinsed and new liquid used, varying the proportion of chemicals.

The following formulas have been used quite successfully in preparing fruit for exhibition:

1. For such as squashes, cucumbers, onions, dissolve one pint of pure clean table salt in every gallon of water used. Allow this solution to stand twelve hours, then strain through several layers of cheese cloth and pour over fruit.
2. For strawberries, blackberries, raspberries and currants use clear water, while berries but be sure that no water remains on the berries.
3. For pears, peaches and plums use one quart of formaldehyde and one-half ounce of formaldehyde to every gallon of water.
4. For apples use one and one-half ounces of formaldehyde to every gallon of water.
5. For fruit in general use one pint of glycerin, five ounces powdered borax to every gallon of water, then after fifteen days add two ounces formaldehyde to each gallon for dark fruits and two ounces of sulphurous acid to all light-colored fruits.

AGRICULTURE FOR SCHOOLS

BY J. E. LAMSON,

Extension Division, Minnesota.

THE State Department of Public Instruction and the Agricultural Extension Division are co-operating in a systematic effort for the introduction of agriculture into the rural schools this year. The plan is to send a special leaflet called "Rural School Agriculture" to every rural school teacher in the state. This leaflet will be sent out monthly from the extension division and will contain a few simple, timely and practical exercises which can be carried out in the rural schools. The idea is to interest the boys and girls, each month, in those things which are being done on the farm and in the home during that month. The experiments are to be conducted at home, and the reports brought to school for discussion. Carried out in this way, agriculture need take but little time in the school. Most of the work is easily correlated with the regular branches of school work. A few minutes each day, for important questions and sharp, enthusiastic discussion of reports and experiments, is sufficient for the general agricultural work.

EVERY reader of this newspaper, who is a stock raiser or farmer should also be a reader of

AMERICA'S GREATEST

FARM DAILY

Chicago Daily Farmers and Breeders Journal

WHY? Because, in a word, it is the farmers' paper.

There is no other newspaper in the country just like it.

It has an individuality and publishes the news affecting the American farmer without fear or favor.

It publishes the most complete and reliable market reports of any newspaper issued; it gives the news of the world in a concise and reliable form, and the best descriptive writers and authorities on farm and animal husbandry contribute to its columns.

Are you not missing something?

OFFICIAL REPORT OHIO DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The following report is computed from the official correspondence of the department:

Wheat—Estimated area harvested, 2,032,139 acres; product per acre, 15 bushels; total estimated product for 1911, 31,092,382 bushels; quality compared with an average, 94 per cent; crop of 1910 still in producers' hands, 11 per cent.

Oats—Area as returned by township assessors, 1,093,072 acres; product per acre, 31 bushels; total estimated product for 1911, 46,102,742 bushels; quality compared with an average, 88 per cent.

Barley—(Fall and spring) Area as returned by township assessors, 24,482 acres; product per acre, 26 bushels; total estimated product for 1911, 622,897 bushels; quality compared with an average, 88 per cent.

Rye—Area as returned by township assessors, 66,663 acres; product per acre, 10 bushels; total estimated product for 1911, 1,045,321 bushels; quality compared with an average, 95 per cent.

Corn—Prospect compared with normal yield, 91 per cent; cut up for fodder, 80 per cent; average date for fodder cutting, September 19.

Potatoes—Probable total yield compared with last year, 52 per cent.

Tobacco—Prospect compared with an average, 75 per cent.

Pastures—Condition compared with an average, 98 per cent.

Apples—Prospect compared with last year, 125 per cent.

Ohio's estimated wheat production for harvest just past was 31,092,382 bushels. This is an approximate shortage of 136,000 bushels compared with the estimated production of one year ago. The average production per acre is 15 bushels. The quality of the grain is estimated at 94 per cent, compared with an average. The crop of 1910 still remaining in producers' hands is estimated at 11 per cent. Ohio should not produce less than 40,000,000 bushels of wheat annually, but until a marked increase is shown in the area seeded, this can not be accomplished.

While the area seeded to oats for 1911 harvest was somewhat greater than in 1910, the total production does not equal last year's crop. The present estimated production is 46,102,742 bushels as against an estimated production of 54,094,054 bushels one year ago. The quality of the grain is estimated at 88 per cent, compared with an average. The average production per acre is 31 bushels.

Based upon 35 bushels per acre representing normal—100 per cent—respondents estimate the corn prospect at 91 per cent. Reports from township assessors show that 3,019,604 acres were planted to corn. From the prospect now reported this should produce approximately 96,938,797 bushels. On the corresponding date one year ago the production was estimated at 87,156,178 bushels.

Potatoes are a failure. The prospect for the state as a whole is estimated at 52 per cent, compared with 1910 production. Sixteen counties report prospect at less than 35 per cent, while in but 12 counties is prospect reported at better than 70 per cent. The failure of this crop is attributed to the serious drought.

Ohio's apple crop is most bountiful.

Woman's Happiness

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child with her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an oily emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes.

Mother's Friend

Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

BRADFELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Compared with last year the prospect is estimated at 125 per cent. The awakening of the people to the good effects following scientific orcharding is shown in the present apple harvest.

WAS FIRST PHYSICIAN IN LICKING

Dr. Lee Settled in Granville in 1807. First Court Also Held in the Old College Town.

Granville, Oct. 26.—Your reporter in conversation with one of the oldest physicians of Granville, during his talk asked him if he had any record or the first physician who practiced in Granville. He said that in the spring of 1807 a Dr. Lee settled in Granville, he being the first physician in this part of the county. He married Sabina, eldest daughter of Job Case, and subsequently removed to Coshocton. He was followed by Drs. Richards and Eager, men of general education and professional skill. One of these was a regular graduate of Dartmouth and the other of a literary institution in Rhode Island. Granville has never been without medical men who adorn that profession in any age or community.

The first court ever held in the county was held near this place, on Centerville street, in a house that stood on the corner of Levi Rose's garden. The grand jury held its inquest under a tree that stood near a guillemot that pointed the way to Hebron.

Mrs. Edgingham Griffith has gone to Syracuse, N. Y., to visit her sister. It has been thirty years since they met and the reunion was a happy one.

Apple picking, potato digging, corn husking and apple butter making has been the order of things in this vicinity during the past week. The potato crop will be short. Apples, however, are plentiful and are selling at reasonable prices.

Mrs. Nettie Predmore has returned to her home at Youngstown, having had a pleasant visit here with her sister, Mrs. Charles Simpson.

Rodney McCollom of Columbus spent Sunday with his parents here.

Hallowe'en the popular name for October 31, the vigil of the Feast of All Saints, will, as usual, be responsible for much merrymaking in Granville. Formerly nearly every bit of vandalism that was pulled off in the village on Hallowe'en was credited to the students. Of late years, however, the town boys have been holding up their end in this respect, while the students have been very mild in their pranks, and no fault has been found with their actions. Many innocent Hallowe'en events are being planned, but the exact nature of these, and the place where the revelry will be held, have not yet been definitely determined.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Williams and daughter, Miss Helen, who have been visiting relatives and friends in Granville and vicinity for some days, have gone to Mt. Vernon, where they will make a short visit before returning to their home in Allegheny, Pa.

Rev. F. C. Detweiler of this place, late of Oberlin Theological Seminary, occupied the pulpit of the Second Baptist church in Cambridge on Sunday, and preached a very acceptable sermon to a large congregation. Rev. Mr. Detweiler is a young man of fine attainments, and is an excellent preacher.

Miss Daisy Laughery, a charming young woman of Bucyrus, O., who has been visiting here for some days, returned home Wednesday.

The next meeting of the Fortnightly club will be held at the home of Mrs. Gilpatrick on Tuesday evening of next week.

Next month you will be able to date your letter 11-11-11, and a year from next December you will be able to date your letter 12-12-12, but you will be told all about this so often in the meantime that you will probably feel like letting those dates slip without writing at all.

SUMMIT STATION.

The condition of Mrs. Steward Wilson has taken a turn for the worse and her condition is very serious. The children have been called home.

Rev. Frank Beem, who has been spending some time with relatives here, left Tuesday for his home in Portland, Me.

Rev. G. P. Thompson attended the Central association of the Universalist church at Plint, O.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hull have been spending a few days with Mrs. W. S. Griffith.

Arthur Roshon and Miss Garnett of Columbus were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rashon, on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. James Williams of Newark were Sunday guests of J. D. Holcomb and family.

S. Stewart and family of Columbus spent Sunday with Grandmother Brook.

H. M. Layton and family spent Sunday with relatives at Milford Center.

Lois Buckingham spent Sunday at Black Lick.

The L. T. L. will meet at the home of Russell Palmer and May Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hughes of Columbus were Sunday guests of Mrs. W. S. Griffith.

Miss Ethel Greenwood spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Columbus.

Mrs. Thomas Davis and son Edward of Columbus spent Monday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Cashdollar.

The W. F. M. S. will meet at the home of Mrs. R. S. Johnston next Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Frank Heikenroder is suffering with peritonitis.

CATARH TORTURE CURED

Trial Package Mailed Free To Cincinnati You.

Head Feels Like Some Great Pressure Was Bearing You Down Pain in Forehead, Nose and Throat Raw, Severe Headaches, Hawking, Spitting and Bad Breath.

There are only a few of the many symptoms that warn you of the deadly work catarrh is gradually accomplishing. Your whole system is being poisoned by the deadly catarrh germ which sooner or later will cause the complete decay of both tissue and bone.

It causes loss of thinking power, ulcers, irritation of the glands of the throat, causing carache and finally deafness. The continued dropping of these germs down through the throat usually results in indigestion, dyspepsia, catarrh of the stomach, bowels and other vital organs, causing consumption and finally death.

C. E. Gauss, 1235 Main Street, Marshall, Mich., has at last discovered a remedy that quickly and permanently cures all forms of catarrh. It goes direct to the seat of trouble and corrects the cause.

In order to convince any person suffering from this dreadful disease, one large sized trial package will be sent absolutely free, postage paid, in a plain wrapper. All that is required is to fill out the attached coupon and mail it today. When you are cured tell your friends about this wonderful medicine.

BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY ON SHOOTING CHARGE

Samuel Shackelford, charged with shooting with intent to kill, waived examination in police court Thursday morning and was bound over to the grand jury under bond in the sum of $500. At noon he had failed to give the bond and was still in jail.

Shackelford is charged with firing two shots at James Baker, while the latter was on the porch of his Granville street home. According to the story told by Baker in police court, Shackelford walked down past the Baker home with a shot gun and when he saw Baker on the porch he said:

"I want you to stop walking past my house."

Baker claims that he made no reply to this remark, but arose and started in the house. As he entered the door, he says Shackelford fired point-blank at him, most of the charge entering the door frame but a number of the shots penetrated his arm.

He hurriedly shut the door and thought himself safe inside when another report was heard and this charge took effect in the door several shots piercing the panels and entering his head.

Shackelford claims to the police that he was on his way up the creek to shoot birds and that as he passed the Baker home, he attempted to raise the gun to carry it on his shoulder when the hammers caught on a rent in his coat and the weapon was discharged.

NEEDMORE.

Miss Nellie Martin visited her mother and brother, Saturday and Sunday. Zene Search and nephew of Zaneville spent Monday and Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. W. Martin.

Lee Martin of Newark is home for a few days.

Wm. Varner was a Frazeysburg visitor, Saturday.

Nearly everybody attended the oyster supper at Pleasant Valley, Saturday.

Gets Big Wheat Yield.

Champaign County, Ohio, boasts of one farmer who has been producing over forty bushels of wheat per acre for several years in succession. This is George Standish, superintendent of the county infirmity farm. This season he grew 235 bushels of wheat on six acres—17 1-2 bushels per acre. The College of Agriculture at Columbus, O., is assured that this is not a "happens" but is the result of the use of proper methods.

An interesting plowing demonstration has just been made on the Ohio State University farm, at Columbus, O. A disk plow, designed for deep plowing, was compared with a six bottom gang plow pulled by a kerosene engine. The two outfits were used, side by side, in the same field, both doing good work. The plowed land has been prepared and will be sown to wheat and the resulting yields compared. For several years the deep plowing has given increased yields.

Young SAFETY Razor

"The any-angle razor"

A safety razor that gives the diagonal stroke!

—the stroke of the old-fashioned straight razor in the hands of an expert barber—the stroke that is absolutely necessary to secure a clean, smooth, satisfactory shave.

A beautifully finished, nicely balanced, small, light, simply adjusted razor, using especially made blades of the finest steel, hollow-ground and honed and stoppered ready for use; a razor costing one-half the price of any razor in its class.

A touch of the finger turns the blade at any angle, producing the diagonal stroke no matter what the position of the hand or what part of the face is being shaved.

Price, complete with 12 blades and handle for stropping, in a neat, attractive, leather case, $2.50.

30 Days Free Trial

All dealers are authorized by us to take the Young Safety Razor back and refund the $2.50 if a thirty-day trial does not convince the purchaser that the Young Safety Razor is all we claim for it. If your dealer does not carry it, order direct from us with same return privilege.

CLEVER FORGER TRIES TO CASH A $90 CHECK

WHEN TELLER REESE STARTED TO CALL MR. CONRAD ON 'PHONE HE SKIPPED.

Professional Imitates the Grocer's Signature and Presented Check for Payment.

A clever professional forger was in Newark Wednesday afternoon and endeavored to get away with $90 of another man's money, but he failed in his attempt.

At five minutes to three, just at the close of banking hours, a well dressed and fine appearing man of perhaps 35 years of age, entered the Newark Trust Company bank and presented at the teller's window a check drawn upon the City National Bank of Canton, Ohio, for $90. The check was dated October 23, and was made payable to one J. A. Carman and bore the signature of "W. G. Brown." As the teller, Mr. L. T. Reese, checked to the teller, Mr. L. T. Reese, Mr. Reese turned the paper over and noticed that it was endorsed "Charles L. Conrad." Mr. Reese directed the stranger to step to the counter and personally endorse the check and immediately turned to his telephone directory to call Mr. Conrad on the wire. The stranger noticed this move on Mr. Reese's part and without waiting an instant, stepped to the front of the bank and dashed out of the front door before any of the bank officials had time to give an alarm.

Mr. Conrad keeps an account at the Newark Trust Company and the bank clerks are all familiar with his signature. The endorsement upon the check was almost an exact duplicate of Mr. Conrad's signature and perhaps nine out of ten men would immediately declare the signature as that of Mr. Conrad, but experience in matters of this sort led the wide-awake teller to be especially cautious and while at the time he was not satisfied that the signature was not genuine, he decided to call Mr. Conrad to inquire whether he had endorsed the "Brown" check. It is evident that the stranger, who was a professional forger, in some way got possession of Mr. Conrad's signature as he could not in any other way have made so good an imitation of it upon the Canton check.

As soon as the incident was over the police were notified of the matter and given as good a description of the stranger as Mr. Reese was able to give. He had only a moment's glance at him and was unfortunately unable to describe the man accurately. All efforts to locate him have so far failed.

YOUR HAIR GROWS LONG AND GLOSSY

Massaging the scalp with Beta Quinol mildly excites it to healthy activity, frees it of dandruff, excess oil, overcomes that dry, scaly condition, and permits the hair roots to perform their right functions, then your hair grows in thick and glossy. Beta Quinol restores life and lustre to sunken hair, giving it a fine richness. To healthy abundant hair it lends a delightful embellishment and charm. Beta Quinol comes in one-ounce bottles—highly concentrated. Each bottle makes one pint of the best hair tonic. Prepare your own hair tonic at little cost by mixing half pint each of alcohol and water, then pour in one ounce of Beta Quinol, or you can add the Beta Quinol to one pint of bay rum. Sold by druggists at 50 cents, or mailed on receipt of price of Cooper Pharmaceutical Co., 81 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill. You can get the Beta Quinol and bay rum at Erman & Son's three drug stores.

STABILITY

CHARACTERIZES THE BUCKEYE STATE BUILDING & LOAN COMPANY, 22 West Gay Street, Columbus, Ohio. Its mortgages cover over twenty million dollars worth of Columbus homes. These home-owners will cling to their homes and pay these mortgages. So carefully has the Buckeye loaned its money, it owns no real estate. Five per cent paid on time deposits. Assets $5,000,000. Write or call for booklets.

ADVERTISING

Suppose the firms who day after day and year after year use the advertising columns of the Advocate for misrepresenting facts about their goods—how long would they continue in business? A counterfeiter does not place his name and address upon his spurious coin and the manufacturer who makes an inferior article doesn't stamp his name upon the product, as a rule. So it is with the local dealer. He cannot afford to advertise a $5.00 article at $2.71 and then fail to deliver the goods. The time long passed when the public could be fooled by fake advertising. When you see a reputable Newark merchant announce in these columns a special sale in which he offers certain values at certain figures, you may depend upon it that he is telling the truth. If he isn't he will not stay long in business.

A MIGHTY REMEDY

Cures Backache, Stitches and All Kidney, Liver and Bladder Diseases, or Money Back.

Yes, money back; that's the offer that Erman & Sons, the agents in Newark, make if Thompson's Barosma fails to cure any of the above diseases.

And when you stop to think, that's a wonderfully generous offer from the viewpoint of the afflicted, the sick and the suffering. So if you are ill, have the blues, have lost ambition, have backache or pains in your side, if your urine is high colored, and your eyes dull and complexion sallow, the chances are that your kidneys are weak and clogged up, and that your blood is full of impurities.

So why wait when Thompson's Barosma is guaranteed to restore your health. Get a bottle today at Erman & Son's. There are two sizes—30 cents and $1.00.

Five years ago Charles Schultz of Dunkirk, N. Y., was so weak and run down that he decided to give up his business. He took Barosma, and in a few months he regained his health and gained 55 pounds in weight. Today he writes: "I have been in perfect health ever since I wrote you five years ago." All druggists.
